

Knowledge for Development: Global Partnership Conference

Geneva, 3–4 April 2017

Palais des Nations, Conference Room XXIV

The Global Knowledge for Development [K4D] Conference is aimed at the review and advancement of knowledge management practices in the field of sustainable development and presenting a new agenda to strengthen knowledge societies and economies for development. The Conference will provide insights in current practices and explore future developments in the use of knowledge management in the area of development. Knowledge is at the heart of global development. It is the critical resource for development organizations to work and collaborate successfully as well as for communities, cities, nations and regions to create wealth, quality of living, peace and sustainability. Knowledge is an essential element for the achievement of Agenda 2030 and the Sustainable Development Goals, requiring the world's full attention.

As a first highlight, the Joint Inspection Unit (JIU) will launch its 2016 Report on Knowledge Management in the United Nations system. The best practices highlighted in the report and the means to implement the recommendations made by JIU will be discussed by United Nations' representatives and partners from the civil society organizations, private companies, academia and knowledge management professionals. As a second highlight, the Agenda Knowledge for Development will be presented including the first set of Knowledge Development Goals. This Agenda, initiated by KMA and supported by a global community of thought leaders, brings a new and integrated view on the challenges and opportunities related to knowledge. The third highlight will see the launch of the Knowledge for Development Partnership.

The Conference is co-organized by the Joint Inspection Unit of the United Nations system and Knowledge Management Austria, and hosted at and facilitated by the United Nations Office at Geneva, in cooperation with the following partner organizations:

There is no registration fee for the conference which is open to all, subject to registration. Instructions for registration and registration can be found here. www.km-a.net/english/en-networking/k4d-geneva-2017.
